The image shows a smartphone screen with a dark background. At the top, the text "Novo cadastro" is in a large, bold, serif font, and "Vendedor" is below it in a slightly smaller, bold, serif font. Below the title, there are three white input fields with blue borders, labeled "Nome", "Cpf", and "CNPJ" from top to bottom. Under these fields, there are two radio buttons: "Masculino" (selected) and "Feminino". Below the radio buttons, the text "Data de nascimento" is centered. Underneath, there are three columns of date selection controls. Each column has a top button with a "+" sign, a middle button with a number or year, and a bottom button with a "-" sign. The first column shows "11", the second shows "11", and the third shows "2011". At the bottom of the form is a grey button labeled "Próximo". The smartphone's home indicator bar is visible at the very bottom.
